Festivals Around the World

After completing Project 1, students do more research, using books or the Internet, to find more festivals around the world for each month. Then they can make a class poster to present their findings.

A Festival Presentation

After completing Project 2, students make a poster about their chosen festival, adding pictures to illustrate the words that they have chosen. Then they present their festival to the rest of the class. They can write or talk about how they celebrate their festival like this: [Festival] ... is in / on [month / date]. We eat ... We wear ... We [activities]. The weather is usually ...

Which Festival Is It?

Choose one of the festivals from the Reader, and without saying its name, read out one fact about it and asks students to guess which festival it is. Read out more facts, one at a time, until students guess the correct festival. You can use a point scoring system, for example, five points after one fact, three points after two facts, etc. Students can then do this in small groups or pairs.
